To whom it may concern:

We are pleased to introduce the packager relationship between GE Oil & Gas Compression Systems, LLC ("GE") and SANCUS Energy and Power LLC through our Authorized Packager Program, bridging two important pillars of our industry. Through this cooperative program, we aim to provide our end user customers with increased access to GE's products as well as packaging support from SANCUS Energy and Power LLC. Among its goals, this program:

- Combines the strength of GE's gas compression product line with the packaging capabilities of SANCUS Energy and Power LLC, allowing our customers to benefit from lower lifecycle costs through increased access to trusted, genuine GE compressor parts and reduced cycle times
- Demonstrates the commitment that GE Oil & Gas and SANCUS Energy and Power LLC have to ensure that compression companies are able to operate as cost-effectively and efficiently as possible

GE works with our global customers to deliver reciprocating compression innovation and technology that optimizes the production and distribution of natural gas. Through our packaging relationship with SANCUS Energy and Power LLC, we are pleased to offer you world-class compression solutions with outstanding packaging support.

Sincerely,
